

NEWSLETTER OCTOBER 2023

AROUND THE WORLD

Our kids set for another adventure. This time they've travelled around the world, just like Willy Fog visiting all the continents and its various countries full of exciting activities, culture and games within their class environment.

Year 1 classes, in addition, explored the world through joining the exhibition of Biennale of Illustrations in Bratislava Bibiana. Children loved it!

Altogether with wonderful cooperation from our dear parents who joined us at class workshops for a session of parent teaching about various countries we could fully enjoy an adventurous week! Big thanks to you, for being a part of it.

EARTH SECRETS

To explore the Earth secrets, we went for an excursion into the past to the Slovak National Museum. Thanks to the great exhibits, we could dive under the surface of prehistoric seas together with trilobites or see a dinosaur that once lived in Slovakia, in the Tatras, up close. It helped us to realize how our Earth looked in the history of ages.

MAGIC SPACE

All science lovers and space enthusiasts were overexcited about the week when we learned and talked about the magic space. Kids loved the space workshop where they could play with various models of planets and got answers to all their questions. Some children had their first chance ever to look through the real telescope and observed small objects up in the sky.

Inspired by the workshop, children worked on their class projects using the knowledge and experience about the Space. Some kids focused on Solar system models; others created their own planetary exhibition. Well done everyone for your creativity!

FOREST SCHOOL

Children from Y1 classes joined the older friends from Cambridge at their forest school kingdom. Kindergarteners enjoyed being around big kids and responsibly helped their new friends with their forest jobs: building up the bunker, collecting branches for the fire, digging holes, and looking for forest treasures. Everyone had a great time!

CLASS PROJECTS

Sharks (Y1) in Stare mesto explored the Earth secrets by discovering its structure and composition. They created little models from playdough showing core, mantle and crust to understand basic geological processes.

Llama class (R) in Horsky park worked on the bird feeders to keep birds in Horsky park safe in winter. This way they learn to know and protect our nature.

Koala children (Y1) in Koliba created an amazing exposition of little prehistoric animals seen in the Slovak national museum made up from conkers.

Eagle class (N2) in Stare mesto created their mini model of volcano to explore about geological processes and dinosaur times.

Penguins (Y1) in Horsky park explored the world travelling with wise adventurous owl and her story. At the same time, they practiced plenty o yoga positions to feel it in the body.

LATEST NEWS

It's been already some time when we started our cooperation with Mr Paul McCullough running the English courses at Comenius University. Once a year we welcome university students to visit our kindergartens to check the bilingualism in practice. Let us share with you some of their feedbacks 😊.

"I was a bit nervous at first to speak with the kids, because I didn't know how much they were able to speak. But I was shocked when they used difficult sentence constructions with such ease. The kids were so happy to be there. I had a wonderful time filled with joy."

"I really liked this experience to see how those little children manage to communicate and play and learn so easily... They were learning about dinosaurs and the lesson was very playful, innovative, and excellent."

"The thing that just warmed my heart was the teachers. They had prepared materials; it wasn't just like 'sit and draw' or 'come and play.' They all played, sang, danced, and tried new things together."

We take a chance of our newsletter to promote a very interesting start up, which can potentially make your life easier when planning and organizing a party for your child. We got a very positive feedback from our parents, so if you struggle and search for help, you may approach these ladies.

WHAT'S NEW IN OUR SCHOOL

Students at school got busy in October with lots of activities and events. Beside the Pyjama day in Y2s; Open house mornings for parents in primary; winning the CITI Innovation camp competition in business; visiting Volkswagen plant or joining Šamorín symposium - our school hosted a science legend Prof. Ružena Bajcsy and founded the first student company Ecosketch.
